A CONTENTION AS TO AUTHORITY.

The last session of the General Assem bly passed an Act permitting the Board of County Commissioners of this county to make the following levy for county purposes, to-wit:

For ordinary county purposes, 21 mills. For court expenses 1 mill. For past indebteduess 14 mille. For roads.. 4 mill. Total..... 5 mills

The Board of County Commissioners, in their wisdom, decided this levy insufficient to meet their expenses and ordered the County Auditor to increase the levy so as to make it as follows, to-

For ordinary county purposes, 21 mills For court expenses 4 mill. For past indebtedness 11 mills. For roads...... 1 mill.

Making a total of 51 mills We do not intend to express an opinion now as to the right of the Board of County Commissioners to thus increase the county levy, but are decidedly of the opinion no such power should be vested in any Board of County Commissioners. Should the Supervisor and his Board be given such authority then it could be as profligate as it may in the expenditure of public funds and cover its extravagance by an increase in the levy of taxes on the overburdened peo-If the Board can increase the levy authorized by the General Assembly by a half mill, then it can raise it two, three or any number of mills to meet the emergency created by said Board. We are persuaded that the tax-payer will not be overjoyed at this assumption of authority by the County Board, no matter what their advice on the subject Haley presiding, and Judge Haley plain-Remarkable Speech of Lawyer Harmon at the Funeral of Luctuert.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 30,-Thousands of persons attended to-day the funeral of Adolph Luetgert, the wife murderer, who died at the Joliet penitentiary. Prominent in the group about the bier at the Northwest Turner Hall were Luctgert's three children, near a floral pillow with the inscription, "Our father's words, 'I am innocent.' " Lawrence Harmon, former counsel for Luetgert, delivered an address, at the close of which he said:

"He is dead, but his wife lives. I call woman for whom he suffered, without even saying an unkind word of her, to come forth and remove the unmerited stain from the name of the father and her children."

LUETGERT'S CONFESSION. CHICAGO, July 30.—Adolph Luctgert's sudden death in the penitentiary at Joliet on July 27 has brought to light the fact that State's Attorney C. S. Dincen has had locked up in the vaults of the Criminal Court building for two years the statement made by Luctgert to a fellow-prisoner in the jail. It was sworn to by the latter at the time before the State's Attorney. From the document it would appear that Luctgert asked his wife to go with him to the sausage factory office on the night of May 1, 1897. She refused. This angered him, and during the quarrel that followed he gave her a violent kick in the side. This rendered her unconscious. Luetgert expected she would come to, but she did not. Seeing that she had died he diaposed of her body in the factory vat.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhea, accompanied by vomiting. gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief we sent for a physician, and it was under his care for a week. At this time days, and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better. Some time between night and day be and his wife heard a baby crying and thought it was their own, but found it sound asleep, Later they heard it again, and located it this time on their front piazza, and an examination revealed to them a fine healthy baby boy, about two months old, well dressed in a basket, and a basket of extra clothing beside it, all of which had been placed on the piazza which had been placed on the piazza stealthily by some unknown parties. Spring

YOU give your house and farm a good cleaning up every spring. Why not give yourself one, too? Your system needs it after going through the bad winter season as much as your house does. We have the Medicine that does the work, and does it well, too. It contains in every bottle all of the best Drugs known to be useful as system-renovators. Come and see, and let us show it to you, and common sense will do the rest. All it costs is 50c. and 90c. a bottle You can't afford to do without it. And if you are just getting over the grip we can help you in that, too.

It costs us nothing to show you our Medicines—in fact, we take pleasure always in doing it.
